05.00 Depart from Bangkok to Nong Bua Lam Phu, and it would take around 7 hours and 30 minutes.

Noon Arrive at Nong Bua Lam Phu. Take you to have to lunch at the restaurant. Then go to 150 Million Years Old Stone Shell Museum.

Afternoon Arrive at 150 Million Years Old Stone Shell Museum or or "Million Year Shells Cemetery". The 150 Million Years Stone Shell and Dinosaur Fossil Museum is located at Ban Huai Dua, Non-Than Subdistrict, Mueang District, Nong Bua Lamphu Province. It used to be a sandstone quarry where rock blasts formed high cliffs where ancient shell remains were found. Later the mine was abandoned, and villagers have found many stones that looked like beautiful shells, so they dug up and sold them. When the Department of Mineral Resources examined it, it was found that it was a double clamshell fossil in the late Jurassic period.

Later, this place has developed into a museum exhibits about the universe, the solar system, the world, the origin of life, the evolution of plants, animals, humans, dinosaurs, and paleontology. It is a museum that exhibits the knowledge of nature and geology of Nong Bua Lamphu Province, which is an important discovery and worthy of education for the youth of Nong Bua Lamphu Province.

There are exhibits the story of the ancient fossil clam 150 million years old from the Jurassic period, the bivalve clam discovered at Ban Hoi Dua which consisted of bivalve clams of different sizes, The knowledge about Nong Bua Lamphu Province, show information, pictures of attractions, and important places are divided into 6 districts in Nong Bua Lamphu Province: Mueang Nong

Bua Lamphu District, Na Klang District, Si Bun Rueang District, Suwan Khuha District, Non-Sang District, and Na Wang District. The inside exhibits dinosaur fossils, the story of dinosaurs, the story of the dinosaurs that were discovered, fossils in the Northeast, the stories of various dinosaur species, and the bones and footprints of dinosaurs discovered in Non-Than Subdistrict. Then take you to Luang Pu Khao Analayo Museum at Tham Klong Phen Temple. It is a famous temple of the province. It is assumed that this is the ancient temple in the nice and calm atmosphere. However, there is no evidence when it was built and it finally became the abandon temple. On B.E.2501 (1958), Luang Pu Khao Analayo, the disciple of Luang Pu Mun Phurithatta came to stay at Wat Tham Klong Pen for meditation. He used the stone hall as the chapel. He died in B.E.2526 (1983). The important remarks here are: The museum displays the utensil of Luang Pu Khao Analayo. It was built from the marble in modern architecture style. King Rama IX donated his personal budget 1,400,000 Baht for the construction. Thus, it is the valuable architecture and historical value. Luang Pu Khao Analayo human imagery Museum - the building is in the shape of three stones in order in the overturn bell-shape. The wax model of Luang Pu Khao Analayo in sitting posture is located inside for people to pay respect. Luang Pu Khao pagoda was constructed to contain the relics of Luang Pu Khao. It is on the stone yard near Luang Pu Khao Mundapa. At the temple, there is the cave where the two-sided drum and the Walking Buddha image embedded in the stone are located. Luang Pu Khao used to stay here for meditation. Currently, the museum collecting the utensil of Luang Pu Khao is constructed for people to visit and pay respect.

09.00 Arrive at Phu Kao - Phu Phan Kham National Park. Phu Kao - Phu Phan Kham National Park covers the area of three provinces: Nong Bua Lamphu Province, Khon Kaen Province, and Udon Thani Province, but most of the mountain ranges are in the area of Non-Sang District, Nong Bua Lamphu Province. The location of Phu Kao - Phu Phan Kham National Park Office is in Nong Bua Lamphu Province, which is far from the city on the route Nong Bua Lamphu - Khon Kaen of about 53 km. In the past, the area of Phu Kao - Phu Phan Kham had fertile forests and many kinds of wildlife. But at present, the forests and wildlife are sparse because of encroachment and destruction. Therefore, the government declared the area of Phu Kao - Phu Phan Kham, which used to be the national forest reserve, to be a national park area to conserve natural resources, forests, and wildlife. Phu Kao consists of 9 mountains, which are Phu Fang, Phu Khum Pun, Phu Han, Phu Moei, Phu Kho Mor, Phu Sun, Phu Pera, Phu Luak, and Phu Wat, therefore called

about Phu Phan Kham because this area is a rich forest with many wildlife. Phu Kao - Phu Phan Kham National Park has many beautiful caves such as Tham Phran Ma, which is an important cave because it is a cave that Luang Pu Khao Analyo, the famous Thera of Wat Tham Klong Phen had hiked to pray at this cave. Then take you to Non Yao Beach or “Pattaya Sam”, located at Ban Non Yao, Khok Yai Sub-district. It is a beach on the edge of a freshwater lake in Ubolrat Dam. You can see the beautiful view of the Phu Phan Mountains.
