CECI

1938

Italy: Ceci

In the evocative setting of the Parma countryside, for almost a century Ceci family has been producing wines as sincere as their home land: it is a place of creation, of ideas, of the passage of people, affections, of the succession of generations and finally of life, which revolves around grapes, and the human labour that interpret what nature give. Ceci represents a benchmark in the history of Italian bubbles.

SALENTEIN

VALLE DE UCO

Argentina: Bodegas Salentein

The Salentein estate is as rich in history as in vineyard character. Land now planted to grapes that once bore witness to great deeds and heroism. This goodwill was the work of the indigenous people. It is this delicate balance of old and new of blending the tradition of long-celebrated European winemaking methods with the bold ingenuity of the New World-that defines the Salentein style.
