- 18) Remedy song by Maroon 5 Feat. Stevie Nicks
- 19) Carry You Home song by James Blunt
- 20) Take Me Back to London song by Ed Sheeran Feat. Stormzy

The twelfth song and the thirteenth song show that Prince William, all good members of The British Monarchy, all good Christians, and all good Muslims have been controlled by pimp king Bhumibol, the satanic Chakri dynasty, Ratchaneewan Ad-harn, Ad-harn family, almost all Thai, and all evil foreign people to do many things up to their evil minds.

The fifteenth song also shows that Prince William has not been his own mind.

And the twelfth song to the twentieth song tell us how to solve the problems.

- 21) The Great Escape song by P!nk

The twenty-first song hints us how to solve the problems, and shows us “Kay has tried to tell the solution, but nobody listens to Her.”

- 22) Warwick Avenue song by Duffy

The twenty-second song hints Prince William, all good Christians, and all good Muslims “How can you be better, if you don’t help Kay?”

- 23) Sometimes Love Just Ain’t Enough song by Patty Smyth and Don Henley

- 24) If I Were a Boy song by Beyonce

- 25) Vincent (Starry, Starry Night) song by Don Mclean

The twenty-third song to the twenty-fifth song show that Prince William who is My backup “never sees the truth”. The singers tell everyone “Prince William has to listen to Kay. How can Kay help, redeem, and teach if Prince William who is Her assistant, all good Christians, and all good Muslims do not listen to Her?”

Remark: Some English songs cannot be listened to in Thailand because almost all Thai ordered some foreign creative people to not allow the songs to be listened to in Thailand. In that almost all Thai prepared to alibi “We didn’t have any chances to listen to these songs, so we didn’t know the truths.”
