HEALTHY EATING FOR ALL

We strive to offer our consumers high-quality food and beverages that help them achieve and maintain a healthy lifestyle.

Monkey King Food has been catering to health-conscious consumers worldwide since 2005 with a range of konjac-based products. These products are an excellent choice for those who are looking to manage their calorie intake, as they are high in natural fiber and contain almost no calories. Konjac, a food that has been popular in China and Japan for centuries, has gained widespread popularity in the United States and Europe as a low-calorie gluten-free option. This incredible food offers numerous health benefits, including aiding in weight control, improved gut health, lowered cholesterol levels, and promoting an alkaline balance in the body.

We are dedicated to developing a range of konjac-based products that cater to the health-conscious consumer. Our konjac-based products are a great way to incorporate this super-food into your diet and reap its many benefits. Whether you are trying to lose weight, improve your digestive health, or maintain a healthy lifestyle, these products offer a convenient and healthy solution that you can enjoy without any guilt. Try their range of konjac-based products today and discover a world of healthy eating options.

VISION

In addition to konjac-based products, we offer a range of delicious options such as ready-to-eat cereals, tofu, carrageenan jelly with juice flavors, grass jelly, and bird's nest beverages. Our products are available at mainstream supermarkets, health-conscious grocery stores, and online, making it easy for you to purchase them wherever you are.

At our company, we are committed to providing our customers with the best health food options available. That's why we ensure that all our products meet the highest quality standards and have earned international and Thai national certifications such as GMP, HACCP, BRC, and Thailand Trust Mark.

For OEM customers, we believe in constantly innovating and working closely with them to create new and customized products that cater to their specific needs. Our aim is to help you maintain a healthy lifestyle with our wide range of products that are carefully crafted to meet your needs.

Konjac, a plant that grows from a large corm, is a staple of many tropical regions in Asia and Africa. It's a perennial plant that produces beautiful flowers and can reproduce through budding or seeds. Are you health-conscious and looking for ways to control your weight? If yes, then you might want to consider including konjac food products and supplements in your diet. Konjac plant, popularly grown in Thailand, has a unique substance called glucomannan, which is mainly found in its corm.

Glucomannan is known for its high dietary fiber content that helps reduce cholesterol and blood lipid levels while also treating constipation. Besides, it acts as a prebiotic, which means it feeds beneficial microorganisms in the colon and other probiotics like lactobacillus and Bifidobacterium. So, by adding konjac to your meals, you can support your gut health while enjoying a tasty treat.

Good bacteria in your gut can help reduce harmful bacteria, improve food digestion, and boost your immune system. When probiotics consume konjac's glucomannan (prebiotics), they produce Short-Chain Fatty Acids that help regulate the pH level of your colon and reduce inflammation.

FOOD BENEFITS FROM KONJAC

1. Konjac is a good source of prebiotics that can nourish the beneficial microorganisms in your gut and improve your digestive health.
2. If you're looking to manage your weight, using Konjac as a food ingredient may help you achieve your goals.
3. Consuming Konjac can support a healthy digestive system by promoting regularity and preventing constipation.
4. Konjac can absorb fat and reduce blood lipid levels, which may contribute to better heart health.
5. By promoting regular bowel movements, Konjac can help eliminate toxins from your body and support overall detoxification.
6. Additionally, incorporating Konjac into your diet can help boost your metabolism and promote an alkaline balance in your body.
