

ALLIED METALS (THAILAND) CO., LTD.

Re: Cookies Policy

Cookies Policy

The Company's website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users, which will enable the Company to provide you with a better user experience and improve the quality of our website. The objective of this Cookies Policy is to ensure that you, as a user of <https://www.alliedmetals.com>, will receive clear and accessible information about cookies used by <https://www.alliedmetals.com> as well as roles that cookies have to help the Company provide you with the best experience and alternatives that you have in relation to setting of your cookies.

1. What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files installed on browsers of the user or hard drive on computer or mobile devices of the user, used to collect data and settings, such as language settings of browsers on the user's device and to record the user's current log-in status to enable the user to continuously use the website. They also collect data on the user's website visit behavior. Cookies are not harmful to your devices and contents in cookies can be viewed and read by the website that creates such cookies only. You may accept or deny cookies by adjusting your browser settings. If you wish to do so, please go to the Help menu of your browsers.

Data The Company receives from cookies or similar technologies may include your IP address, Advertising ID, browser attributes, device attributes, specific device ID, operating systems, language settings, reference URL, record of your website behavior, such as contents that the user visits or is interested while visiting that website, date and time of access or use of the website, connection of applications on mobile phones and tablets. The Company may use similar automatic methods.

The Company's Privacy Policy will determine all details concerning other information that the Company collects and methods of how the Company uses your personal data.

2. Use of Cookies

Cookies will let the Company know what parts of the website or application of the Company that the user visits so that the Company is able to provide better user experience and meet the user's needs. For example, cookies can recognize you and significant information that will make it more convenient for you to use the Company's website, such as recognition from your settings and recording of initial settings of the website by cookies, will enable you to access the website with the settings you have, except in the case where cookies are deleted, which will make the device resume its initial settings.

When you visit the website or click to accept Cookies from the Notice appearing on www.alliedmetals.com on your computer or mobile phone, it means that you have given consent to Cookies and analysis of your data by the Company or relevant third parties.

3. Types of Cookies and their Functions

The Company uses four types of Cookies on our website. You cannot be identified by the use of such Cookies.

Strictly Necessary Cookies: these cookies are essential for the Company's website since they allow the Company to provide website services and basic functions of the website as well as to demonstrate the structure of website on computer or mobile phone. This type of cookies enable stable and effective use of the website and will be stored and deleted after your browsing of the website.

Analytical/Performance Cookies: these cookies allow the Company to evaluate its website's performance from the number of pages you visit, length of visit, place of usage, and number and specific characteristics of a group of visitors. Such information will be used to analyze the visitors' behavior and the results will be used to improve our website (both for computers and mobile devices) to ensure that it can meet users' needs and improve user experience. However, data obtained and used for the evaluation is anonymous and not identifiable. Moreover, no specific data, such as name or email address, is collected. Data is collected for statistical purpose only.

Functionality Cookies: these cookies are used to recognize attributes that you choose while using the website, either on computer or mobile device. The data recorded will be used again when you return to the Company's website. What you have chosen to use will be displayed without you having to choose again. This is for your convenience in using the website. However, data obtained and used for the evaluation is anonymous and not identifiable. Moreover, no specific data, such as name or email address, is collected. Data is collected for statistical purpose only.

Marketing Cookies: this type of cookies will be placed on the Company's website, www.alliedmetals.com, to recognize users' usage and interests, which will be used to adjust web pages to present goods, promotions and events that are interesting to and meet the needs of users, as well as specific offers and privileges. They can be used to evaluate advertising campaign effectiveness, which will facilitate the provision of services to the Company's customers. Information obtained from marketing cookies can also be used to select media for communication and display of advertisements on the website and other communication channels of the Company to website users and customers of the Company.

4. Retention Period

Two types of cookies will be stored on your devices:

- Session cookies will be automatically deleted when you turn your browsers off.
- Persistent cookies will remain on the user's computer until they expire or are deleted. The persistent cookies can collect information on the user's interests, which make it easy for the user's next visits to the website and more interesting contents can be shown to the user.

5. Cookie Settings

If you do not wish to have your data collected by cookies and measurement software and tools, you may choose to delete or disable some of the cookies or measurement software via your browsers or the settings on your mobile device or tablet. Please be informed that if you turn off or remove cookies, some attributes of the website may not work properly as designed. For example, you may not be able to visit certain areas of the website or you may not receive specific information provided when you visit the website.

If you use different devices to open and access the website (such as computer, smart phone, or tablet), you have to adjust the browser used in each device to be in line with your cookie preferences. You can manage cookies in your browser by using the following settings:

- Cookies settings in Chrome
- Cookies settings in Firefox
- Cookies settings in Safari and iOS
- Cookies settings in Internet Explorer
- Cookies settings in Microsoft Edge
- Chrome for android
- Chrome for iOS

6. Contact Us

If you have any questions regarding this Cookies Policy, please contact us at dc-pdpa@alliedmetals.com.

7. Amendment of the Cookies Policy

The Company may amend this Cookies Policy and we recommend that you review it from time to time to be aware of how the Company uses its cookies.

This Cookies Policy is published on 25 May 2022.

Last update: 30 June 2022
