VIVE LES CLEFS D'OR

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS IN JUNE

June is a vibrant time to explore Thailand as the rainy season brings lush green landscapes and refreshing scenery.

The famous Phi Ta Khon Festival in Loei showcases colorful masks, lively parades, and rich local traditions.

In Chaiyaphum, the Dok Krachiao (Siam Tulip) fields bloom beautifully, creating stunning pink-purple meadows.

Waterfalls are full and nature in the northern regions becomes especially fresh and lively.

Overall, June offers a perfect blend of culture, nature, and unique seasonal beauty across Thailand.

PHI TA KHON PARADE 2026

Phi Ta Khon is a famous Thai traditional festival held in Dan Sai District, Loei Province. It is part of the Bun Luang and Bun Phra Wet (Vessantara Jataka merit-making ceremony) traditions of the Isan region.

A key highlight of the festival is people dressing up as “ghosts” using brightly colored masks made from coconut palm fronds and steamed sticky rice baskets (khwao). The celebration features lively parades, music, and traditional folk performances. The festival is typically held around 20–22 June 2026, mainly at the Dan Sai District Office and Wat Phon Chai, Loei Province, Thailand.

KHAO NA NAI LUANG DHARMA PARK

Khao Na Nai Luang Dharma Park is a peaceful spiritual retreat in Surat Thani, Southern Thailand. Surrounded by forests and mountains, it is ideal for meditation and Vipassana practice.

Its highlight is the Sky Pagoda, located atop a 300-meter-high limestone hill.

The pagoda enshrines sacred Buddha relics, and nearby is a revered Buddha's Footprint.

Visitors can admire the beautiful nine-spined archway, especially at sunrise.

The mountaintop also offers stunning views of a sea of mist, making it a must-visit destination.

PA HIN NGAM NATIONAL PARK, CHAIYAPHUM PROVINCE – SIAM TULIP FIELDS (DOK KRA-JIOW FIELDS)

The rainy season comes together with the blooming of Siam tulips (dok kra-jiao). During this time, one of the must-visit destinations is Pa Hin Ngam National Park, where visitors can experience vast fields of these flowers in full bloom. The Siam tulip fields are at their most beautiful during mid to late June each year, welcoming the rainy season with vibrant pinkish-purple scenery.

UMPHANG, IN TAK PROVINCE

Umphang, in Tak Province, is home to pristine forests along the border with Myanmar. The route passes through majestic mountain ranges, offering breathtaking scenery. Visitors can enjoy the fresh forest air and beautiful landscapes, or choose to ride an elephant to view the forest from a higher perspective. You can also stop by and experience refreshing waterfalls that are especially vibrant during the rainy season—it is truly a heartwarming experience.

SAPAN VILLAGE

Sapan Village in Nan is a must-visit during the light rainy season. It is surrounded by beautiful terraced rice fields and lush green mountains. Morning mist gently covers the valley, creating a stunning and peaceful view. The scenery is especially magical from the rainy season through winter. Visitors can stay in cozy homestays and experience close-to-nature living. This is one destination you should not miss this rainy season in Nan.
