TOURIST ATTRACTIONS IN MAY

May 2026 has arrived, and it's a great time to plan a short getaway or a refreshing summer escape. The weather may be hot, but the bright skies and lively atmosphere make it perfect for outdoor adventures and exploring new places.

This month is also rich in Thai culture, with highlights like the Bun Bang Fai Festival, known for its colorful parades and exciting rocket launches to pray for rain, and the Elephant Ordination Ceremony, a unique and meaningful tradition where novice monks are paraded on elephants.

For those looking to cool off, you can relax by the sea, explore lush mountains, or visit refreshing waterfalls. It's also a great time for adventure activities if you're feeling active. We've gathered a mix of travel ideas for May 2026 to suit every style whether you prefer chill trips, nature escapes, or cultural experiences. Pack your bags and enjoy the summer to the fullest 🌞🌴

YASOTHON ROCKET FESTIVAL 2026 (BUN BANG FAI)

The Yasothon Rocket Festival (Bun Bang Fai) is one of Thailand's most exciting and colorful cultural celebrations, held across the Isan region in provinces like Yasothon, Roi Et, and Udon Thani.

Celebrated at the start of the rainy season, the festival is rooted in ancient beliefs that launching rockets will call upon the rain god, Phaya Thaen, to bless the land with rain for a successful rice-growing season.

Expect vibrant parades, traditional dances, lively street parties, and spectacular rocket launches that light up the sky.

RELAXING RIVERSIDE RAFT GETAWAY IN KANCHANABURI

Kanchanaburi, with its riverside raft accommodations, is one of the provinces many people think of when they want to travel somewhere during the winter or rainy season.

If you visit Kanchanaburi in winter, you'll be greeted by misty mornings and cool, comfortable weather. During the rainy season, the atmosphere becomes lush and refreshing, with plenty of greenery all around. You can also enjoy fun activities like rafting along the River Kwai for a bit of adventure.

This is not merely an exhibition, but an attempt to challenge, interrogate, and unsettle the structures, mechanisms, and logics that have long governed the contemporary art system. It seeks to open space and extend an invitation to those whose voices, ideas, and lived experiences have been absorbed, erased, or rendered inaudible within systems that prioritise visibility and recognition over an engagement with the complex realities of artistic labour.

The project questions prevailing norms that bind artistic value to processes of selection and institutional approval, while foregrounding the potential of art as a means of disclosure, self-affirmation, and the reclamation of space for those who have been persistently silenced, overlooked, or excluded from public perception.

Through her latest exhibition, 'The Hero Within', she guides us to discover the hidden hero residing inside us all—marking a profound evolution from "transitional dreams" to "art that is breath itself."

IRIS & WILD IRIS

A bar inspired by the French Riviera that's landed right in the middle of Bangkok. The whole place borrows that sun-drenched Mediterranean ease and spreads it across two floors overlooking Lumphini Park, with the city's skyline rising up behind like a rather dramatic backdrop.

The first zone sits beside the bar where a DJ keeps things gently moving. The space has a certain gloss to it without feeling overdone. White toned surfaces catch the light beautifully as evening shifts into night and, when the breeze moves through the room, everything feels quietly alive in a way you only really clock once you've settled in with a drink. Head upstairs and the mood changes. The second zone resembles a small garden terrace with open views across the city. It's quieter up here, better suited to long conversations that can stretch out without any rush. Once the sun dips below the skyline, the energy picks up.

Location: 29/F, SO/ Bangkok hotel

Opening Hours: 17:00hrs - Midnight

Contact Number : +66 2 624 0000
