Let's see which destinations are worth adding to your travel list.

KHAO TOK GARLAND PROCESSION BAN FAH YAD COMMUNITY, YASOTHON

Khao Tok Garland Procession

The people of Fah Yad Village (Mahachanachai District) in Yasothon, known as the land of the famous Bung Fai rocket festival, create long garlands from white popped rice (khao tok) as a substitute for the celestial Mandarava flowers, which are believed to be heavenly blossoms. These garlands are offered in devotion to the Lord Buddha during the beautiful and unique Khao Tok Garland Procession Festival.

This distinctive tradition belongs exclusively to the Chi River basin community of Fah Yad Village, Fah Yad Subdistrict, Mahachanachai District, Yasothon Province. Villagers carefully string popped rice into long garlands, symbolizing the sacred Mandarava flowers of heaven, and form a ceremonial procession to present them as Buddhist offerings in celebration of Makha Bucha Day.

This is an ancient Isan tradition that has been continuously passed down through generations, preserved exclusively by the Ban Fah Yad community.

 Date: 26 February – 2 March 2026

 Venue: In front of the Maha Chanachai District Office, Yasothon Province, Thailand

NIGHT AT THE PALACE – CHANTHARAKASEM NATIONAL MUSEUM AYUTTHAYA

Another must-visit highlight is Chantharakasem National Museum, also known as the Front Palace of Ayutthaya, which hosts the special “Night at the Palace” event. The palace opens for evening visits, beautifully illuminated with decorative lights that create a mysterious and enchanting atmosphere. Visitors can enjoy exclusive access to the Phlapphla Chaturamuk Pavilion, and take part in traditional royal-style workshops such as making ancient Thai fragrances, golden Thai desserts, and fruit and vegetable carving—offering an immersive experience that feels like stepping back more than 400 years in time.

Event Period: Throughout February 2026, every Friday–Sunday, from 5:00 PM to 9:00 PM
Special this year: Rare access to the interior of the Phlapphla Chaturamuk Pavilion

WAT PHRA SI RATTANA MAHATHAT LOPBURI

Let's check in at Lopburi with a visit to Wat Phra Si Rattana Mahathat, one of the city's most important historical landmarks. The temple is conveniently located directly opposite Lopburi Railway Station, making it an unmissable stop for visitors.

Within the temple complex, a key highlight is the Sala Plueang Khrueng, a pavilion once used by the king to change royal attire before attending religious ceremonies. Nearby stands the Luang Vihara (Main Assembly Hall), constructed during the reign of King Narai the Great. This grand hall features Thai-style angular doorframes combined with French Gothic-style windows, reflecting Western influence during that period.

Inside, a raised platform (chukchi) enshrines Buddha images.

Altogether, Wat Phra Si Rattana Mahathat is a beautiful destination rich in historical traces, offering visitors a deep sense of Lopburi's cultural and architectural heritage.

THUNG BUA DAENG FLOATING MARKET NAKHON PATHOM PROVINCE

Thung Bua Daeng Floating Market, Bang Len is located in Bang Len District, Nakhon Pathom Province. It is a floating market unlike any other, as it sits beside a vast lotus pond, offering a beautiful and serene atmosphere. The market covers an area of approximately 44 rai, clearly divided into different zones. The highlight is the expansive lotus pond, which alone spans about 24 rai. Visitors can enjoy viewing the red lotuses throughout the year, as there are two varieties grown here: the traditional lotus and the “Ma-Miaw” red lotus. Tourists can paddle a boat to admire the red lotuses and breathe in the fresh morning air, or visit later in the day to relax, enjoy a meal, or sip coffee while overlooking the lotus pond. In the evening, when the sun sets, the scenery becomes even more romantic, creating a truly memorable experience.

Golden Teardrop is a work that transcends time and borders, reflecting stories of memory, culture, and the quiet connections between people found within the smallest details of everyday life. Arin Rungjang first created this work in 2013 for the Venice Biennale, using Thong Yod, a Thai dessert with Portuguese origins, as a symbol of cultural exchange and labor during the colonial period. This seemingly simple object became a vessel for histories interwoven with beauty, bitterness, and remembrance.

NEW OPENING

KAYAKI (CENTRAL EMBASSY)

The new Central Embassy spot offering an omakase experience focused on medium-rare grilled Japanese fish. Kayaki specializes in Yakizakana, the Japanese tradition where fish is lightly seasoned and grilled to perfection, typically served simply with rice and miso soup.

Here, you can try this Japanese staple in an omakase manner, where chefs grill the fish right in front of you and serve it course by course, much like a sushi experience. For beginners, we highly recommend the Kayaki Tenkai set (B1,290++), which comprises fish and seafood served over seven courses. It's the perfect place if you love high-quality fish or just want to treat your body to a healthy, exquisitely prepared meal.

L'ANTICA PIZZERIA DA MICHELE

The reigning champion of the 50 Top Pizza Guide has officially brought its legendary Neapolitan pizza to Siam Paragon. While pizza may often feel like a safe choice, the offering from L'Antica Pizzeria da Michele is anything but ordinary—it's a serious culinary institution.

Here, guests can experience authentic Neapolitan pizza crafted using traditions that have been cherished globally for over 150 years.

A must-try is their signature Diavola (THB 560). Though it shares the classic appearance of a Margherita, the flavors are far from simple. The richly intense tomato sauce pairs beautifully with melted mozzarella and spicy salami, delivering a perfectly balanced and deeply satisfying bite.

- Location: 5th Fl., Siam Paragon

SRI'S ROOM

The newest venture from the Sri Trat team, bringing sophisticated Eastern Thai cuisine and vintage charm to Siam Paragon.

Celebrated Chef Wongwich “Ack” Sripinyo (the talent behind Bangkok’s in-demand Sri Trat) has embarked on a new venture at Siam Paragon with Sri’s Room. Although this is Ack’s first restaurant in a shopping mall, it beautifully exudes the well-known Sri Trat atmosphere, making you feel like you are dining in a gorgeous, vintage room inspired by 1970s Bangkok.

The food still embraces the bold and distinctive Eastern Thai sensibilities, but with a modern, thoughtful take that slightly diverges from the original restaurant’s classic menu. The result is a vibrant, sophisticated menu of over 70 dishes. And a little bird told us that the upper floor is currently being renovated for an intimate, seasonal chef’s table experience.
