Tourist Attraction in July

In July 2025, there will be two long weekends perfect for travel and relaxation—an ideal time to recharge before getting back to work. These holidays fall on AsalhaBucha Day and Buddhist Lent Day. Plus, at the end of the month, there's another special occasion: His Majesty King Rama X's Birthday.

So don't wait or worry about the rain—pack your bags and head out to enjoy the cool, fresh air and lush, vibrant nature during the rainy season. We've rounded up top travel destinations for July 2025, including rainy-season spots near Bangkok and exciting festivals happening this month. Curious to see what's on the list? Let's dive in!

Candle Festival

Ubon Ratchathani

The Ubon Ratchathani Candle Festival 2025 will be held from 9–13 July 2025, inviting visitors to experience one of Thailand's most iconic cultural and religious events. The festival features intricately carved candle parades, mesmerizing light and sound shows, and new activities that highlight the unique identity of the province. Over 5,000 seats will be provided for guests to fully enjoy the celebrations, which also aim to boost both domestic and international tourism.

Tak Bat Dok Mai (Offering of Flowers) Saraburi

One of the must-see events during the Buddhist Lent month is the “Tak Bat Dok Mai” (Offering of Flowers) Festival in Saraburi Province. In 2025 , the tradition will once again be held in a beautiful and meaningful manner. The atmosphere will be filled with vibrant native flowers and scenes of people dressed in white coming together to make merit.

Get ready—because the Tak Bat Dok Mai Festival Saraburi 2025 offers more than just spiritual significance. There will be photogenic corners and heartwarming moments waiting for you to experience in person.

The event will take place from 9–11 July 2025 at Wat Phra Phutthabat Ratchaworamahawihan, Phra Phutthabat District, Saraburi Province.

Kaeng Hin Sam Chan Nakhon Nayok

July is peak rainy season in Thailand, making it ideal for white-water rafting as rivers swell and nature thrives. A top rafting destination is Kaeng Hin Sam Chan in Nakhon Nayok, where cool waters and strong currents from the Khao Yai-fed Nakhon Nayok River create thrilling rapids. The course offers a moderate to intermediate challenge, attracting both Thai and international adventure seekers.

Baan E-Tong Kanchanaburi

Take a relaxing trip during the rainy season to Baan E-Tong, a small village nestled at the Thai-Myanmar border in Pilok Valley, Thong Pha Phum District, Kanchanaburi. It's one of the must-visit destinations in July, offering peaceful surroundings, cool weather, and pristine nature—perfect for a quiet retreat.

During the rainy season, the entire village is often blanketed in thick white mist, creating a refreshing and dreamlike atmosphere. Everywhere you look, you're surrounded by lush greenery and fresh air. Today, the village features cozy cafés, homestays, souvenir shops, and weekend walking streets to warmly welcome visitors who want to experience the local Thai-Myanmar lifestyle. It's also the starting point for adventurers heading up Khao Chang Phueak, one of Thailand's popular mountain trekking routes.

Pa Ton Nam, Ban Nam Rad, Surat Thani Province

Head south to experience Unseen Thailand at Pa Ton Nam, Ban Nam Rad in Khiri Rat Nikhom District, Surat Thani Province. This crystal-clear spring is so transparent that you can see the sandy bottom and limestone sediment below. Even the aquatic life swimming in the water is clearly visible. On sunny days, the water looks especially stunning, reflecting a vibrant natural beauty.

The reason this spring remains so clean and pristine is due to strict conservation measures enforced by local authorities. From the entrance, visitors undergo checks for waste, and there are limits on the amount of personal belongings allowed. As a result, the only activity permitted here is swimming—no food or drinks are allowed inside, unlike many other places—ensuring that the environment remains unspoiled and beautiful for everyone to enjoy.

DISCRIBTION “What is the first thing that comes up when you reminisce about your childhood?”. All the laughs in the playground and sand, or maybe, it’s drawing your own favorite original character? Those experiences and memories from our childhood days would seem trivial and far away, but they were also the most precious things that nourish our mind, and refill our feeling of happiness. As we continue to leap through our phases in life, our responsibility grows and reflects what society expects from us. It makes us forget those happy little laughs and memories, strips us of silly yet limitless dreams we used to believe in, and eventually darkens the bright mind that used to be the light in our hearts.

RESTAURANT

OPENING

Jim's Terrace

Jim's Terrace opens at One Bangkok, embracing the 'Thai way of eating'

Thailand's favourite Thai silk brand Jim Thompson invites diners to indulge in the 'Thai way of eating' at one of the city's shiniest new addresses.

The food: The classic Thai menu is crafted by Chef Lek Within Trirattanavatin, and is designed for sharing. Highlights include the Sai Krok Isaan, Thai Classic Boat Chill Dip with Salted Duck Egg, and Tom Kha Gai, as well as the Southern Thai Pork Neck Curry with Heart of Palm and Sweet Basil, Khao Soi Gai, and Pad Thai Muang Chan with Wild Prawns. Definitely don't leave without trying the staple Thai dessert of Bread with Ice Cream and Red Syrup, too.

The vibe: As its name suggests, the terrace ambience adds a calming and relaxing lightness to this venue, as you watch the trees outside and the world go by at One Bangkok. The modern interiors are decked out in dark tones with red accents, reminiscent of signature Jim Thompson style. In fact, the restaurant is located inside the Jim Thompson store.

Address : G/F, The Storeys, One Bangkok, Witthayu Road, Pathum Wan, Bangkok

Open daily 11:00-20:00 hrs.

Khao San Sek

Recently named the world's best female chef, there is no stopping Chef Pam Pichaya Utharntharm, and though Khao San Sek is definitely a lot more casual than her Michelin-starred Potong restaurant, it still delivers all the best flavours.

The food: The concept is centred around Thai 'holy grail' ingredients — rice, chili, coconut, fish sauce, and palm sugar.

The result is a menu that is extremely well-balanced, and offers plenty to the beginner and the experienced Thai food lover.

Don't know where to start? Get the house menu (THB 1800) that features a good mix of highlights. These include crab nam prik, smoked beef tongue satay, woffia soup, and slow-cooked beef rib green curry. There's a palm sugar caramel dessert, and for an additional THB 500 you can get a 2-glass sato tasting, too.

The vibe: Not too far from Potong, Khao San Sek also sits in Chinatown. Located inside a charming old shophouse, the interplay of history and its translation into current times is apparent even in the setting. Song Wat Road needs no introduction anymore, and Khao San Sek fits in seamlessly.

Khan San Sek, 1121-1123 Song Wat Road, Samphanthawong, Bangkok.

Address : 1121-1123 Song Wat Road,
Samphanthawong, Bangkok.

Open daily 16.30-23:00hrs.

Hades Hybrid Bar

Hades Hybrid Bar: From Smoothies to Cocktails in Just a Few Hours
Hades describes itself as a "hybrid bar", starting the day as a smoothie bar from 9:30 AM to 5:30 PM, before transforming into a cocktail bar that stays open until 2:00 AM. Located in the luxurious new Park Silom building near Bangkok's central business district, it's the perfect post-work hangout spot.

Named after the god of the underworld, Hades promises a journey "where every sip feels like a descent into the underworld." Though the meaning might sound mysterious, the bar also offers a lighter take with its acronym: HADES = Happy All Day Ever Since. Whichever way you interpret it, they're aiming to give you a dangerously good time.

🍸 Recommended Cocktails:

- Oolong Me Baby – White rum, umeshu, raspberry, and oolong tea
- Umami Tomato Hell – Mushroom gin, tomato juice, soy sauce, tomato sauce, mushrooms, and lime juice

And there are many more creative cocktails to try—whether you're buzzed or just curious.

Address : G Floor, Park Silom, No. 1 Convent Road, Silom, Bang Rak, Bangkok, Thailand, Nearest BTS Station: Sala Daeng

Opening Hours: Daily

Café: 09:30 – 17:00 hrs.

Bar: 17:30 – 02:00 hrs.
