TOURIST ATTRACTION IN MARCH

March bathes Bangkok in gentle sunlight and clear skies the perfect time to explore the city's charm. Stroll through historic streets, admire stunning architecture, and savor exquisite Thai cuisine.

For those seeking coastal serenity, we recommend Koh Samet for a relaxing beachfront escape, Koh Hong for a secluded island experience, or Saraburi for lush waterfalls and nature retreats, complemented by the vibrant traditions of Isan.

This March offers the perfect balance of urban sophistication, coastal tranquility, and unforgettable experiences.

BUN PHAWET 2026: THE GREAT MAHACHAT MERIT-MAKING FESTIVAL IN ROI ET

Experience one of Northeastern Thailand's most vibrant and spiritually significant festivals at Bun Phawet 2026, taking place from 6–8 March 2026 in Roi Et. The celebration features the complete recitation of the Mahachat (Vessantara Jataka) sermon, along with spectacular cultural parades, traditional Isaan music and dance performances, and community merit-making ceremonies.

Visitors can immerse themselves in authentic local culture while witnessing beautifully decorated processions and sacred rituals that reflect the deep faith and rich heritage of the region.

SAMED ISLAND IN RAYONG PROVINCE

Summer calls for the sea, and Samed Island in Rayong is the perfect escape from Bangkok. With 16 stunning beaches like Sai Kaew, Ao Prao, and Ao Nuan, there's a spot for every vibe. Chase the nightlife and fire shows at Ao Pai, unwind in crystal-clear waters at Ao Nuan, or catch a romantic sunset at Ao Prao each beach is a little paradise waiting to be discovered.

LAM KHLONG NGU NATIONAL PARK, KANCHANABURI PROVINCE

Adventure seekers won't want to miss Lam Khlong Ngu National Park's epic caves. Explore Sao Hin Cave, home to the world's tallest natural limestone pillar, and Swallow Cave, famous for its spectacular stalactites and stalagmites.

These trails are physically demanding expect forest trekking, swimming, jumping, floating, and scrambling over rocks. Life jackets are required.

In 2026, the caves are open only from March 1 to April 26. Book early if you're ready for a true adventure.

KOH HONG VIEWPOINT THAN BOK KHORANI NATIONAL PARK KRABI PROVINCE

Head down south to experience breathtaking beauty from a 360-degree panoramic viewpoint at Koh Hong. This stunning lookout is one of the most eye-catching viewpoints in the area but it comes with a bit of a challenge. Visitors must hike uphill along a metal staircase trail stretching approximately 239 meters, which takes about 45 minutes to reach the summit.

At around 109 meters above sea level, the top offers a spectacular reward: a sweeping 360-degree view of Koh Hong and the surrounding islets scattered across the turquoise waters of the Andaman Sea. The panoramic scenery is truly unforgettable well worth the effort and guaranteed to leave every visitor impressed and refreshed.

MUAK LEK WATERFALL SARABURI PROVINCE

Beat the summer heat at Muak Lek Waterfall, a refreshing nature escape located within Muak Lek Arboretum on the border of Saraburi and Nakhon Ratchasima. This charming 5-meter single-tier waterfall features crystal-clear water cascading over layered rocks, with shallow pools perfect for relaxing.

Open year-round and free to enter, it's an easy getaway near Mittraphap Road — ideal for cooling off or enjoying a peaceful picnic by the water.

"Same Sky" is an exhibition that invites us to view the sky as a shared space for all—regardless of how much our beliefs, backgrounds, or experiences may differ. We all gaze upon the same "sky," yet we each fill it with our own unique stories.

This exhibition presents a collection of photographs, personal journals, and installations that explore memories, hopes, and the internal moments often hidden beneath the surface. Visitors will encounter works that question our collective existence in this world, even when standing in different places or living through vastly different lives.

The exhibition “Ta-Lap-Ka-Rap” (Telegraph) invites us to re-examine the evolution of long-distance communication. It traces back to the era of the Telegraph, which first enabled people to connect across vast distances.

As technology became woven into the fabric of daily life, the world was suddenly struck by the COVID-19 pandemic. In this new reality, being "close" meant having to keep a distance. Communication through technology was no longer just a matter of convenience—it became an essential condition for living and a vital tool for survival.

Time : 10:00 - 17:00 hrs.

Venue : Xspace gallery

'Light Fragments' traces the process in which solitude and contemplation lead to the exploration of oneself and the surroundings. Inside the geometric space, commonly seen in modern living, nature is found through daylight coming in through a window, the tree's shadow cast upon surfaces, perpetually stirred by the wind. Through this quiet watchfulness, observation becomes realization. The state of our existence gradually comes into focus, from understanding the connection between ourselves and the environments we inhabit.

BLUEPRINT OF THE APOCALYPSE

Date : 21 February - 12 April 2026

Time : 12:30 - 18:00 hrs.

Venue : VS Gallery

Artist Karn Nativitakul transforms intangible disasters into tangible perceptions by presenting "Air" as a medium of life and a space that reflects profound inequality. Although defined as a public resource, air is not shared equally across social structures.

Karn uses art to illustrate that climate catastrophe does not only occur in sudden, violent bursts, but is also deeply embedded in history—becoming increasingly complex through the daily patterns of humanity. It creeps through plumes of smoke, dust particles, and scorching heat, evolving into a "new normal" atmosphere that silently steals the breath of us all.

ANGELS OF THE STREET

Date : 21 February - 12 April 2026

Time : 12:30 - 18:00 hrs.

Venue : VS Gallery

Website : www.facebook.com/VSGalleryBangkok/

VS Gallery is proud to present "Angels of the Street," a photography exhibition by Preeyaporn Namcharoensombat. The collection invites viewers to explore the fashion subcultures and lifestyles of a specific group of young women through the female gaze.

These photographs reflect fashion through the lens of "Anti-Fashion," challenging social norms and stereotypes that have long been portrayed negatively or misunderstood within a patriarchal society—a system that has historically dictated definitions of "decency" and "propriety" over women's own experiences.

NEW OPENING

KOKULABO

Located next to its sister restaurant SOMA, Kokulabo is a modern izakaya that reimagines classic Japanese dishes with a contemporary touch. Behind its zen-like entrance, guests step into an intimate space filled with colourful art and playful nods to Japanese pop culture. The atmosphere is relaxed, artsy, and effortlessly cool — perfect for date nights, counter dining, or private gatherings.

Chef Run Wacharun Imarramsak presents a menu that balances tradition and creativity. Standout dishes include the bold Tomato Kimchi, crispy Ebi Karaage, Crunch Roll with premium seafood and crispy rice, and the comforting Beef Saikoro Chahan with Japanese F1 steak and Hokkaido butter rice.

The drinks program by Studio Ryecroft features over 45 Japanese whiskies and sakes, alongside boutique wines and shochu. If unsure, start with their Japanese-inspired cocktails — a perfect pairing for the experience.

JING

Jing opens as a contemporary Chinese restaurant at Andaz One Bangkok.

Located on the lobby floor, the light-filled space overlooks Lumpini Park — perfectly matching its name, which means “scenery” or “view.”

The menu highlights authentic Sichuan and Cantonese favourites. Signature dishes include handmade dim sum, poached chicken, “Typhoon-Shelter” tiger prawns, Chongqing noodles, and sea bass in pickled sour cabbage soup. Guests can also enjoy artisanal teas, tea-based cocktails, and guidance from the in-house Tea Sommelier.

With approachable prices and a relaxed vibe, Jing is ideal for casual dining — whether with friends, colleagues, or even solo. The open kitchen adds a lively touch to the experience.

SLAY YUAN

Slay Yuan is a cross-border love story between Isan and Vietnamese cuisine. Located at Dusit Central Park and created by iberry Group, this vibrant new spot celebrates the bold flavours of both cultures.

Rather than fusing the dishes together, the menu honours iconic favourites from each side. Guests can enjoy spring rolls, spicy salads, grilled specialities, pho, and even Vietnamese pizza. The standout? The hot pot — available with chicken pho broth, beef pho broth, or Isan-style soup. Fiery, fun, and perfect for sharing.
